K-State Wins the Alamo Bowl

By JON PARTON
THE COLLEGIAN

It was a back-to-back bowl success as No. 11 K-State defeated No. 14 UCLA on Jan. 2 at the Alamo Bowl in San Antonio. Last year's victory against Michigan in the Buffalo Wild Wings Bowl and this year's win caps a remarkable season for the Wildcats, led by senior quarterback Jake Waters. The Wildcats grabbed nine regular season wins in 2014, including hard fought games with Texas, Oklahoma State and Texas Tech. K-State also won the Governor's Cup trophy for the sixth year in a row after defeating KU at home. The Alamo Bowl marks the Wildcats' 18th bowl game and the 16th under head coach Bill Snyder. The victory over UCLA will have K-State fans everywhere remember the Alamo.
